

We Welcome Lindsey Volz!

Welcome Lindsey Volz, our new Interim Director of Religious Education

I am happy to announce that Lindsey Volz is our new Interim Director of Religious Education. Lindsey is finishing up her Master's in Education with a concentration in Elementary Education. It is Lindsey's goal to teach in an Elementary School.

The search committee was very impressed with Lindsey's resume and her organizational skills. Keeping things organized is essential in a program as large as ours.

Lindsey and her family are lifelong members of our parish. I am sure you are as happy as I am that one of our own was the best possible candidate to fill our interim position.

Please join me in welcoming Lindsey to our Parish Staff.

A Word from Lindsey...

Dear St. Paul Parishioners,

My name is Lindsey Volz, and I would like to introduce myself as your new, interim, Director of Religious Education. I am currently finishing my Master's degree in curriculum and instruction through the Neag School of Education at the University of Connecticut. I was involved with leading campus ministry at UConn for the past four years, while I completed my undergraduate degrees in elementary education and English. As a life-long St. Paul's parishioner, it will be great to return to my home parish as the director of religious education. I hope to be teaching elementary school next fall, but I am excited to be working with the religious education program at St Paul for the time being.

I started this past week, shadowing Annie Molleda to prepare me for taking over the position very soon. I look forward to working with many of my fellow parishioners, especially our catechists, students, and families. Annie has done a great job developing a strong religious education program for our 900 students at St. Paul's, and I feel very fortunate to be moving into this position. I am also very thankful to Annie for taking so much time to prepare me for directing this program.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns. I would love to hear from you regarding any ways I may be able to work with you in serving the St. Paul religious education community.

Thank you,
Lindsey Volz
